Letter From the President

As the saying goes, "There is always something to be thankful for," and those of us at the Chamber are grateful to all of those who showed their support at the Business Expo on October 19th. The event showcased several local businesses through event sponsorships, raffle giveaways and booths. It was a joy to bring the event back home and we would like to say thank you for making it possible.

In the spirit of giving, the Chamber is in the midst of its Alabama vs. Auburn Food Drive. If you are able to donate, we ask that you bring your items to our next Monthly Business Luncheon on Wednesday, November 1st. May the team with the best fans win!

We are going to be graced by our Mayor Sandy Stimpson as speaker for our Luncheon. Make sure you purchase your tickets in advance through the Chamber website for this event because he always draws a sellout crowd. Special thanks go to Nick Matranga for personally sponsoring our luncheon this month.

We are less than a week away from the start of our 10 Guns in 10 Days drawing which will begin on November 1st. Once the drawing begins, you will not be able to purchase tickets. Get your tickets for $50 each through the website, office or Chamber Board. If you win you will be put back in the drawing for an opportunity to win again.

Christmas is right around the corner and the Chamber is looking forward to its upcoming Christmas Tree Lighting. If you or someone you know is interested in having a booth at the Tree Lighting or sponsoring the event, please contact the Chamber Staff.

We are starting up our Star Student Program again and have a few sponsorship opportunities available. Our star students are chosen from participating schools based on grades and attendance. According to the teachers and principals our program really makes a motivational difference to these kids. They get to attend our Luncheons and receive an award certificate and a gift card.

Thank you to all of our partners and sponsors for their support so far this year and it's proof that we really do have "STRENGTH IN NUMBERS."

American WeatherStar recently opened its new manufacturing building at 8095 Padgett Switch Road in Irvington. The event marked a milestone for the company as it looks to expand its manufacturing capabilities for its more than 500 approved contractors nationwide.

“We moved out here in March of 2020 with one specific goal in mind: growth. Last year, we blended approximately 200,000 gallons of product in our existing plant, but we knew building a bigger facility was essential to the company’s continued growth.” American WeatherStar President Brian O’Donnell said.

With the new 10,500 square foot building, the company will blend silicone, urethane and acrylic coatings, which it supplies to its customers through various private-label manufacturers. The facility’s completion marks part one of a three-phase project. Founded in 2004, American WeatherStar is a manufacturer and supplier of fluid-applied commercial roof restoration systems and products.

Last month, Mobile Mayor Sandy Stimpson announced that the Mobile City Council agreed to support a new medical school building for the Whiddon College of Medicine at the University of South Alabama (USA), main campus, located in West Mobile. Using funding earmarked for economic development, the city will provide $1 million a year toward the project over the next decade.

“With its $1.4-billion annual budget, USA is a vital engine for growth and innovation for our region’s economy. USA Health also provides critical medical services to residents across Coastal Alabama,” Stimpson said. The new facility will allow USA to increase its class sizes to create more opportunities for local students and providers.

Off Dock Services has added another floor to its offices in the Waterman-Smith building located at 61 St. Joseph Street in Downtown Mobile, according to Josh W. Hall of CRE Mobile, who represented the landlord. The shipping and warehousing company has leased the entire sixth floor, after leasing the entire seventh floor this past August.

Waterman-Smith is a historic 70,000-square-foot office complex built in 1947.

Dave’s Hot Chicken, a Los Angeles-based street food brand, announced that it has signed a new franchise agreement with its original franchisees, inking a nine-unit development deal that includes both Mobile and Baldwin counties. Commercial sites under review for fast-casual eatery openings locally reportedly include West Mobile and Midtown.

Healthcare Connections NP has leased some 1,800 square feet of space found at 6420 Hillcrest Court Park in West Mobile and plans to open this month. Josh W. Hall of CRE Mobile represented the landlord in the deal. Healthcare Connections is a group of nurse practitioners specializing in adult health.

Spot of Tea, a restaurant that has served popular breakfast and lunch offerings in Downtown Mobile on Dauphin Street for nearly 30 years, is set to expand. Last month on social media, owner Tony Moore announced that franchise opportunities will soon be available.

Spring Hill College (SHC) announced that it will utilize a $35 million grant awarded recently to build an advanced Health and Science Innovation Center. Construction is scheduled to begin in September 2024 and wrap up by August 2026.

The Mobile Area Water and Sewer System recently paid $200,000 for a 2,289-square-foot property found at 4725 Moffett Road in West Mobile. Chris Harle with White-Spinner Realty handled the transaction.

The former Cafe 219 restaurant space, found at the corner of Conti and Joachim streets in Downtown Mobile will soon see openings for Penton’s Bistro lunch crowd and King Bleu Corner Bar after lunch hours.
